

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

A Pretty Wedding in Botetourt County.

The residence of Mr. Joseph Moomaw, near Daleville, Botetourt County, was a scene of a pretty wedding Thursday evening. The contracting parties were his accomplished daughter, Miss Lillie, to Mr. George W. Layman, a prosperous farmer and merchant of that neighborhood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. C. Denton, assisted by Rev. B. F. Moomaw, and was witnessed by a large number of friends of the contracting parties. The attendants were Mr. W. A. McCormick of this city, with Miss Fannie Layman, sister of the groom; Mr. J. M. Watkins with Miss Hayes; Mr. Charles Layman with Miss Rora Firestone, and Mr. Jones, of Giles County with Miss Laura Lemon. After congratulations had been tendered at the conclusion of the ceremony an invitation to the dining room was accepted, where [a] sumptuous repast was served.

Among those present, was Mr. C. F. Moomaw, a brother of the bride, who has been a resident of Indiana over twenty years, and whose wife never before visited Virginia; Mr. C. B. Moomaw, of the well-known legal firm of Moomaw & Woods, of this city, was present at his sister's marriage and the reception given [by] his brother and wife.

The HERALD begs leave to tender congratulations, and wishes for the happiness and prosperity of Mr. Layman and his bride.
