When they came to America, Frederick was 10 [6/25/1741] and George was 12 [13, 8/1/1738] years old. The ship log shows that they came to America on the ship, Queen of Denmark, that sailed from Rotterdam with 262 [252] passengers. George Parrish was commander of ship. P. 93. Since we could not pay for our freight we children had to serve with strangers until it was paid. I [Frederick] was bound to a Quaker, Richard Dutton, in Chester [currently Delaware] County, whom I served 10 ½ years. When I still had 15 months to serve, I bought myself free from my master.

Frederick worked for a Quaker, George Dutton, for over ten years to pay his transportation to America.

From "John Dutton of Pennsylvania": Kingsman [Dutton], who was a carpenter, inherited 200 acres of land in Chichester [Aston] township.

On this land he erected a two-story brick house which was still standing in 1930. It was located near the east branch of Chichester creek, about half a mile from the south west corner of Aston township, Delaware County. In the east gable is a stone bearing the initials D., K. & A., and the date 1753. The ruins of a sawmill are nearby or at least they were in 1871. [We assume Richard Dutton, his cousin, who was born in the same year, 1711, enjoyed similar circumstances. Ps. 54-57. Biography of b1. George Long, son of Henry and Catharina Kern Long 1739-1805.

The following was read at his funeral on Deep Creek.

The married Brother George Long who peacefully fell asleep on Jan. 8, 1805 at Deep Creek was born in the year 1739 in Schoenau near Heidelberg in the Palatinate. His father Henry Long who was a citizen and master locksmith there and his mother Catharina, maiden name Kern, belonged to the Reformed Church and also guided their children to it. His parents decided latter to move to America and arrived with their children in Philadelphia Oct. 1751. Here when he had to work off his freight he came to decent people with whom he was able to hold out for his whole time and whom he left with a testimonial of being a quiet industrious person for Brandywine, Pa. and thereafter for the region of Lebanon. During this time he experienced repeated urgings of the spirit of God in his heart, but since he lacked a clear knowledge of the gospel and since he was also often drawn back again into the usual way of the world nothing further came of this except that outwardly he wished to remain with his Church in which he also was confirmed in order to partake of the communion.

In the year 1763 he moved to North Carolina, came to this area and at first worked for a considerable time as a nonmember (Moravian Church) in Bethabara. He felt a special love for the Brethren but since he had no desire in his heart for salvation and since he had also almost completely forgotten the German language, having lived among English people since his childhood, he made no further acquaintance with them except that he had the impression that they were good and honest people.

Later he moved to the region of Deep Creek and bought land there and entered matrimony with his first wife, whose maiden name was Miller. At this time he began to be more concerned about his soul salvation. The holy ghost performed such a work of grace in him, revealing to him his lost, sinful condition, that he often wept bitterest tears. How he should find peace for his soul however remained hidden from him. He endeavored in outward matters to do everything to avoid having to reproach himself and from time to time attended the preaching services of the Baptist and those with other views and also felt frequently the grace of God laying hold upon him. However nothing permanent came of this. When the late Brother Soelle once came in the course of his journeying into that area and undertook to preach at his settlement our late brother and others also went to hear him. He had a very poor opinion as he often said of Brother Soelle and thought, as he began to speak, it was hardly worth listening to him but then suddenly he heard him describe the whole lost state of his heart and how one could come to the Saviour for grace and for receiving the forgiveness of sin even while being a sinner under the curse, so that he had to let his tears have free course and he developed such a love for this Brother that right after the sermon he took him to his home and asked him next time to preach in his house. Here he told the said Brother his course up to the present and was given loving and truly evangelical guidance in the right way.

This then was the beginning of the services held by the Brethren in that settlement, held at first by the Brethren Soelle and Utley and thereafter by other Brethren for more than 30 years, first in German and then in English. In his house and in his brother's house and held with blessing.

Since his wife reached the certainty of her own salvation at the same time they now both arranged to honor the teaching of Jesus by their work and walk, and also to bring up their children in this way. He also was ready to testify gladly for everyone concerning the foundation of his hope and when ever the Brethren visited with them and held service he blessed them in his heart accompanying what they did with his prayer and desired with all his heart to receive more fruit from it.

In the year 1784 his dear wife passed on peacefully into eternity. Later he married a second time to a woman whose maiden name was Masters. In his first marriage he had 10 children and in the last 3. Three of the first and three of the last preceded him into eternity. By the oldest of them he lived to see 19 grandchildren. We can give our late Brother, despite all his shortcomings and weaknesses, the testimonial that he also lived in fellowship with the Saviour and in faith in him. What we admired most in him was the faithfulness with which he sought to preserve his children from the world and to lead them to the Saviour. Whenever a Brother visited his house it was always his wish to have him speak about such things thoroughly with his children, and he himself did this very often when he commended them in the prayer to the Saviour and told them about his own conversion. He was happy and grateful that various of his children later united with the congregation and shared in the grace which belonged to it.

As for himself he was sorry that because of the distance and other reasons it did not seem possible for him to do more. In the meantime upon his repeated request and after repeated consideration his wish was finally granted and he became a member of the Hope congregation on Aug. 26, 1802 which congregation he always attended when he visited here. On the 13th of Aug. 1803, he partook of the holy communion for the first time in a Moravian congregation, and this at Salem. A few weeks ago he journeyed with his wagon to Fayetteville and as he passed through Salem on his way back he seemed especially brisk, so that none could have anticipated that his end was near. He also had a very deeply spiritual conversation with one of the Brethren. Soon after his return home he suddenly became ill with severe nerve fever so that he was scarcely conscious and stayed in continuous slumber. On the 8th of Jan. he passed away peacefully in the 66th year of his age.

The above biography was translated from the German to the English language on Feb. 5, 1964 in the Dept. of Archives and History at Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., by Bishop Kenneth G. Hamilton, of the Moravian Church, who is 71 years old.

The death, burial, and funeral of George Long.

Records of the Moravians in North Carolina, Vol. VI 1793-1808
Adelaide L. Fries

P. 2803 [P. 48.]. Jan. 10, 1805. Last night and today we had heavy rains so that most of the snow melted. In the morning there was rather sharp lightning and thunder, with another thunderstorm toward evening. Streams rose, bridges and fences were torn away, and much damage was done to mills and the like. Men could not remember such a sudden flood in many years. Br. Kramsch left this morning for Deep Creek, to hold funeral service tomorrow for the married Br. George Long, who fell asleep day before yesterday, but all the streams, usually small, had become very deep, and the Yadkin could not be crossed by ferry, so he could not proceed but returned in the evening.

P. 2804 [P. 49.]. Feb. 10, 1805. Br. Kramsch went to Deep Creek yesterday to preach the funeral sermon for Br. George Long as his children requested. Br. Long had died on January 8, but because of the continuous rain and swollen streams no service could be held. As is customary in this country his body was buried privately and the grave half filled. Today Br. Kramsch went to the home of the departed Brother where a great crowd had assembled, of all religious faiths. They went a mile from the house to the place of burial, where Br. Kramsch read a short prayer from the English Prayer Book, and a hymn was sung; then the procession returned to the house. The weather was fine and more than three hundred persons gathered in and around the house, listening through the open windows and doors, quietly and attentively, to the sermon which was preached in English.

Report of death of Catharina Miller Lang and birth of Jacob and Sara.

P. 2049. [Feb 8, 1784 per Jasper]: Feb. 8, In congregation---Just before the evening meeting of the congregation Friedrich Lang, from Deep Creek brought a request that Br. Lorenz would come to George Lang, whose wife passed away this morning; also that he would baptize the little child born twelve days ago. So on Monday, the 9th, I rode thither with Friedrich Lang; reaching the home of George Lang in the evening about six o'clock. I stayed about an hour, then went three miles further to the home of Friedrich Lang, where I spent the night. On Tuesday, the 10th I returned to George Lang's. It snowed a little, and it was nearly eleven o'clock before all the people had come. First I held a service, speaking on the words: "Suffer little children to come unto Me," and then baptized the twins born on Jan. 29th to the now departed Catharina Lang; they received the names Jacob and Sara. The mother herself had selected the names. By the time this service was over all had assembled, and I spoke on John vi, 40, those assembled being touched to tears. An account was read of the more important events in the life of the departed, and then her remains were taken to their last resting place, half a mile from her home, on her father's land, whither she had already seen two children carried. At the grave, as in the preceding service, appropriate hymns were sung, and finally the benediction was pronounced. If the procession was not exactly after the custom of the Brethren yet all was done with attention and respect. Soon thereafter two fathers from a German neighborhood about seven miles away said that they would like to have their children baptized also, and I could not refuse, so in a brief service, and with the usual liturgy, the two children were baptized Christian Bro and Peter Danner. By this time it was too late to return home.

Feb 11. [1784 per Jasper] The weather was cloudy, with some sleet. Br. Lorenz, who spent last night with George Lang, went with him to the home of Valentine Reis, where a service was held for 54.

I returned to Salem, Brother Lorenz Bage returned from Deep Creek where on the 10th he held the funeral of Catharina Long, wife of George Long, who passed away peacefully on the 8th of this month having given birth to twins. In the connection with the funeral procession he held an impressive address on John 6:40. (Her meriors [memoirs] follow below) The twins were baptized into the death of Jesus by the names of Jacob and Sarah.

Feb. 29, 1784. The following is to be mentioned concerning the circumstances of Cath. Long, George Long's wife, who passed away peacefully Feb. 8, at Deep Creek. She was born on the 13 of July 1749 in Bucks County in Pa. and came with her parents who are still living Christian and Veronica Miller to N. C. in the year 1752. They settled on Deep Creek. In April, 1865 [1765] she married George Long, now a widower with whom she lived in a happy marriage which God blessed with 10 children, 2 of whom preceded her. Together with her husband she learned to know the Brethren whose teachings concerning the grace and redemption by the blood of Jesus convicted her. In her last illness in connection with the delivery of twins she came even more fully to the recognition of her own misery and in her need she turned for the dear Saviour and confessed her unfaithfulness and her sins and the Saviour gave her forgiveness and grace in his blood. Now reconciliation through Jesus became everything for her and she received glad readiness at the same time to depart to the Lord and wanted to hear of nothing else. Her mouth was full of it and her admonition to those present that should hear it this time should endeavor to become certain of this salvation, were touching. She took a tender fairwell from her children and admonished them to be obedient to their father. She recommended her husband to join the church with her children, put her home in order and remain conscious until her blessed end which followed on Feb. 8 at the age 35 years less 5 months.

These Memoirs were translated on Feb. 5, 1964, from the German language into English in the Dept. of Archives and History, Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., by Bishop Kenneth G. Hamilton, Retired of the Moravian Church, age 71. George LONG and Catharina MILLER had the following children:

Not long after her mother's death in 1784, Mary Long left her home and went to the Friedburg neighborhood and at her request was admitted to the Society at that place. Having spent a number of years there in the service of members of the church and having shown herself to be a quiet and proper person by her conduct, she was united in marriage to Samuel Pfaff, a widower, on 13 Jan 1789. Soon after that she moved to his plantation at Bethania, NC and was received as a member of the Moravian Congregation on 10 Oct 1790. She died 1 Sep 1800 and was buried at Bethania, NC.
