MEMORANDA relating to the POST FAMILY

STEPHEN POST or POSTE came to this country in or prior to the year 1634. His name appears in the records of Newtown, now Cambridge, Mass., in the list of freemen for the year above mentioned. It is a tradition of the family that he came from England, but from what county is not known. The name POST occurs in the records of the County of Kent, as far back as the year 1502. GEORGE POST of ULCOMBE died in that year and had many descendents, among which the name STEPHEN was not uncommon. It is however, only conjectural, to say that STEPHEN POST of Newtown was probably descended from him. A careful search among the lists of emigrants from England to this country, during the first half of the 17th century fails to discover the name of STEPHEN POST. There is nothing strange in this fact. It is well known that many families who were obnoxious to the government on account of their religious or political opinions left England secretly during this period. STEPHEN POST was doubtless of this class. Soon after his arrival in New England, he left Massachusetts as a member of the congregation of Hooker and Stone, and with them went westward to the site of Hartford, of which place he became one of the proprietors and founders. After a short residence there, he sold his lands in the vicinity and removed to Saybrooke, Conn., where he passed the remainder of his days, and died on the 16th of August, 1659. Four children came to this country with him, JOHN, THOMAS, ABRAHAM and CATHERINE. JOHN and THOMAS were among the founders and original proprietors of Norwich, Conn. STEPHEN POST was undoubtedly a man of substance and influence in the colony. He was a friend of the chieftain UNCAS, and by the will of that sachem received 7000 acres of land in southern Conn., which devised was afterwards ratified by the Legislature of the colony.

Both tradition and records are silent as to the name of his wife. *
She probably died before his emigration.

STEPHEN POST'S children, above mentioned, were infants at the time of his arrival in this country. JOHN was probably the eldest.
It appears from the inscription on his tombstone at Norwich that he was born in the year 1626. In March 1652, he married HESTER, daughter of William Hyde. He died Nov. 27th, 1710, at Norwich, Conn.

THOMAS POST was married twice: first to MARY ANDREWS in January 1656; second to REBECCA, daughter of Obadiah Bruen, September 2, 1663. He died in 1701 at Norwich, Conn.

CATHERINE POST was married September 28, 1749, to ALEXANDER
