Dear Alma

I found this in a book (Randolph County history) and thought you might like to have it. I'm still looking for history on Guttrells.

The Guttrell family lived near the present farm home of John Guttrell before the Civil war. The Guttrell Cemetery near by is the oldest burying grounds in Cherokee Bay. (Randolph Co.)

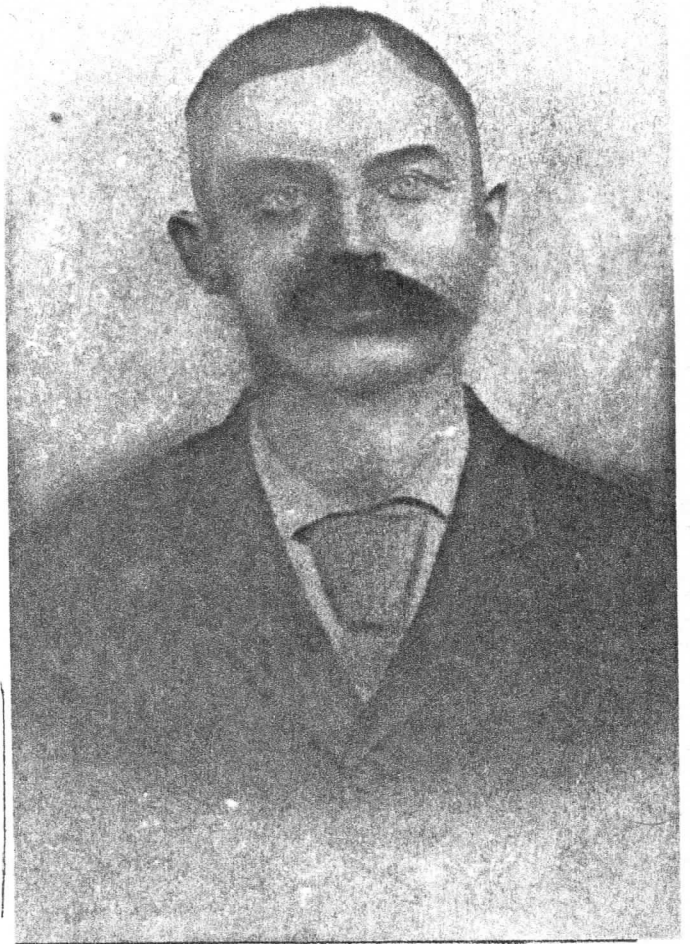

An old Baptist Church in an old community of the Black River bottoms in a place called Sharum. The Church has been in existence since before the war between the states. The Dean, Guttrell, Books, Rogers and others has long been identified with this church.
