First Generation

(1) Joseph B.¹ Hickman, son of William and Ann Hickman, was born 15 Nov 1787 in Pendleton Dist., SC, and on 19 Mar 1807 in Wilkes County, Ga., married Martha (Patsy) Pullen, daughter of William Pullen, Rev. and Mary Haynes, who was born 3 Aug 1790 in Wilkes County, Ga. Joseph B. died on 19 Jun 1861 in Pickens County, Al. and was buried in Pickens County, Al. Martha (Patsy) died on 30 Nov 1873 in Tuscaloosa Co., Al. and was buried in Bucksville, Al.

Notes for Joseph B. Hickman:

The following text is excerpted from Hester M. and Richard Smith's publication on William Pullen.

'He and Martha Pullen were married in Wilkes County, Georgia but apparently lived continuously in Pendleton District, South Carolina until removing in 1818 to Jones Valley (now Jefferson County, Alabama). He apparently decided to emigrate after he bought land in Pendleton in July that he sold in November of 1818. Their son, Pleasant Hickman, described the journey in a note written about 1892. Joseph saw service in the War of 1812 at the Battle of Sister's Ferry on the Savannah River. In 1818, in a company led by John Brown, the Hickmans moved to Jones Valley in the Black Warrior Territory of Alabama. The group camped at what became known as Brown's Spring until the Hunstville land sales in 1819 when Joseph built a home in what is now known as the Lakeview - Avondale section of Birmingham. He also owned a hotel in the county seat of Elyton and is shown there in the 1850 census, which shows his son-in-law, Elijah F. Sandifer as the innkeeper. Later he lived in Pickens County, Alabama, where he died.'

Notes for Zachary Meriwether 'Mel' Logan Jr.:

Zachary's birthplace is not known since his father owned different plantations at different times. The Census Enumerator missed Zachary and his family on the 1850 Census, but he is listed as a voter in Snedecor's Directory of Greene County, Alabama 1856. Oral family tradition tells that some time prior to their move to Mississippi, Zachary's horse was stolen, and in following the thief, he passed through the Darracott community and liked it. All of his family with the exception of Andrew Lewis Logan has moved to Mississippi at that time. - 25 May 1995 notes by Richard Logan
