Subject: Re: Permelia Lockridge (1818) Info

Just a minor quibble - the info below indicates that Andrew Meloan and his wife Rachel died in Murray, Calloway County - Murray did not exist in 1834 or 1839. It was not established until after Marshall County was formed from the northern half of Calloway County in 1842. A part of the land which Andrew Meloan owned was, in fact, given as the first burial area for Murray when it was formed in the 1840's. By then, Andrew and Rachel were dead and were buried on that land. I was just there last week, and, unfortunately, the huge 200 year old oak tree (known as the "Hanging Tree") which shaded some of this area was hit by lightning a couple of years ago and had to be cut down, as it had died. It makes the area seem very stark. There are probably 100 or more burials in this oldest section of the cemetery for which the stones have long since disappeared.

Yes, I had the marriage date wrong. It appears to be wrong in the K. R. O'Hair book, but the Virginia Braun book has it right, and it matches your data. Thanks for letting me know. And thanks for the data, I'll probably add some of this.

Saw your site and added data to my database. Thank you for all of your hard work. I am her 2nd great-grandniece and am sending further info on Permelia's family below.

Both of her grandparents fought in the Rev. War (John Lockkridge & Andrew Meloan/Malone). Permelia's birthdate is August 07, 1818. You have Permelia's marriage date as 2 Mar 1856 which is similar to the death date I have for her of March 20, 1856. I believe your date is incorrect but I will cc the cousins and have them check on it. Brenda in Memphis
