Certainty: 3 Rosier LEVERING ----- Birth: abt 1615, Leydon Holland

Death: Gamen Germany Reli: Mennonite ROSIER LEVERING; was born in the early years of the seventeenth century. He is the known progenitor of the Levering family in America, hence

I designate him as the zero, or bench-mark, from which to grade succeeding generations descending from him. It is believed that he was born in Holland, of ancient English or Anglo-Saxon parentage; exiled, because of persecution for their religious principles. He married

Elizabeth Van de Walle, of Wesel, in Westphalia, in Germany, near to the frontier of Holland. They settled in the same district, at Gemen, where several children were born to them, between the years 1648 and 1662. Tradition, preserved by the remnant of the family at Gemen, says they occupied the old Levering homestead in that town, and that they died there. ===== JOHN WIGARD: born in 1648 or '49, in the town of Gemen, in Germany. In April, 1674, he married "the chaste virgin," Magdalena Bokers, of Essen. She was a native of Leyden, in Holland. They lived in Gemen until some time after the birth and decease of their first child, and then removed to Mulheim, where they remained until they emigrated to America, after the 20th of March, 1685, bringing their surviving four children. ===== Wigard came to Philadelphia on the ship Penn's Woodland from Holland in 1685 having arrived before the month of August, 1685. The Frankfort Company was engaged in the transportation of persons desiring to remove to their colony. The written contract entered into by Wigard Levering with the local agents at Wesel, Dr. Thomas Van Wylick and Johannes Le Brun, for transportation of himself and family to Philadelphia, dated 20th of March, 1685 "We, the subscribers, do acknowledge and confess by these Presents, that we have contracted and agreed together, that Doctor Thomas Van Wylick and Johannes Le Brun, in behalf of the Pennsylvania Company, in which they, and other friends of Frankfort and other parts, are engaged, to except or receive me, Wigard Levering, old 36 or 37 years, and Magdalena Boeckers, old 36 years, and four children, Anna Catharine, William, Amelia, and Sibella, respectively 1/2, 2 1/2, 5 and 9 years, to and for the service of the aforementioned Company, to transport by shipping out of Holland or Inland, to Pennsylvania, upon their cost," etc. On arrival in Pennsylvania, they agreed to report themselves to Francis Daniel Pastorius, who was general agent for the company. Written upon the margin of the instrument an agreement to include "the Contractor's brother, Gerhard Levering."

Article of Agreement between Henry Frey and his family, October 12, 1732. Henry came to America as an adventurer before William Penn, probably as early as 1675. He was a bachelor until Wigart Levering's family arrived. Then he applied for their daughter Cathrina, as she was probably the only young woman then in the bailiwick of Germantown; and although she was of a marriageable age, the odds of their ages were so exceedingly great that it was feared objections might be filed against it. Therefore, their intention was publicly made known; it was also published in their meeting, and affixed on the meeting-house of the said town on the 24th of the first month past. And then, as no objections were filed against it, it was consummated, as the certificate says on the 26th day of the 2d month March 1692. Then as Frey was so old already before he married, they had several minors yet when he was so old and infirm that he was obliged to retire from all the active cares of life. Consequently this agreement was made to one of his older sons (Jacob), consigning all his real estate and personal property to him on very peculiar conditions concerning the support of themselves and his minor children; providing also for their outsets etc.

10. II. ANNA CATHARINE3: b. March, 1676, in Mulheim, on the Rhur. She was brought to America in 1685 by her parents when aged "9 years," as stated in the contract of transportation. She married Henry Frey at Germantown, April 26, 1692 (O. S.), of whom Cassel states:

"Heinrich Frey and Joseph Blatenbach were the first two German emigrants who came to Pennsylvania. They emigrated in 1680 and settled in Philadelphia." Their marriage was among the first weddings which were contracted and solemnized in the province. The evidence of it still exists in the certificate and previous notice which was posted on the door of the meeting-house, as follows:

WHEREAS, Henry Fry, of Altheim, in the province of Alsace, in High German, now inhabitant of Germantown, in the county of Philadelphia, bachelor, and Annie Catharine Levering, of the county of Bruck, likewise in High Germany, a young woman, after due consultation with their respective parents, have produced a sufficient certification of their clearness of all other engagements, under the hand of several credible persons, unto one of the Justices of the Peace, in the bailiwick of Germantown, and have published and affixed their intention of marriage in the meeting-house of the said town on the 24th of the first month past.

As no objections were filed the ceremony was performed, and THIS Certificate witnesseth that the said Henry Fry and Anna Catharine Levering have this day solemnized such their marriage by taking one another as husband and wife, according to the law of this country, and before and in the presence of us, whose names are hereunder written at Germantown, the 26th day of the second month (April), 1692.

FRANCIS DANIEL PASTORIUS,
Justice of the Peace.

Witnesses: Wigart Levering, Gerhard Levering, Magdalena Levering, Hans Peter Umstat, Arnold Cassel, Henrich Shellenberg, Jon Ponder, Andrew Supplee, Manigha May, Catein Tompkins, William Rittinghuysen, Henrich Zollern, Jacob Pfoutz, Henrich Bucholtz, Elias Tossen, Honnas Miller, Elizabeth Cassel, Herman Trapman, Sara Hendricks, Anecki Supplee, Maria Bonus and others.(*)

(*) This certificate is in possession of Abm. H. Cassel, of Harleysville, Pa., the antiquarian. As his ancestors appear among the witnesses, the old document is of special value to him. I have urged that upon his decease it should be deposited in the archives of the Hist. Society of Pennsylvania. Wigard's old bible should be there also. Such relics are of more than personal concern. I have

this certificate. It is written in a plain "hand," upon a comparatively small sheet of paper, which is much discolored by age. Henry Fry was the owner for many years of one hundred acres of land in Roxborough, adjoining the tract of like area then owned by Gerhard Levering. The dates of their respective deaths are not known. As appears by the will of her father, Wigard, Anna Catharine was living at the time of its execution, in 1742. In the unproved will of prior date, mentioned, she was recognized as "Catharine ffrey" (36). See biog.

42. VII. AMELIA4: b. July 1, 1719, at Skippack, in (then) Philad.

Co., Pa.; m. June 10, 1737, to Frederick Leinbach, of Oley, Berks Co., Pa., tailor and farmer, who was b.

July 15, 1703, at Hockstadt, in the Wetteran, who, with two brothers and two sisters, arrived in Pennsylvania on Sept. 11, 1723, with their father, John Leinbach, Sr.

(organist), and his wife, Anna Elizabeth, who was a dau.

of Adam Kleiss.

Amelia4 was baptized by Count Zinzendorf (then a bishop), at Germantown, Philad., May 6, 1842--nearly five years after her marriage--thereby becoming related to the Moravian Church.

She was the mother of seventeen children, as will appear in place. With nine sons she contributed her share to creating what has been called "the immense family of Leinbachs" of Penna., N. Car. and other localities.

The recent (Nov., 1895) discovery of these family records in the old Moravian Church archives at Oley, Berks Co., Pa., by Bishop Levering, of Bethlehem, Pa., appears to explain the absence of local record information at Roxborough, of Anna Catharine3 (dau. of Wigard Levering), and her husband, Henry Frey, after their marriage, at Germantown, on April (O. S.) 26, 1692. The birth of Amelia4 at Skippack, 27 years after, suggests continued residence there of the family.

The records of Oley, referred to, names Elizabeth as having married to Frederick Leinbach, but Abraham H. Cassel, the antiquarian, of Harleysville, Montg. Co., Pa., has legal documents of that period, signed by the parties, which show that Amelia married Mr. Leinbach and Elizabeth married Johannes Miller. Mr. Cassel, who is well informed as to Henrich Frey, states that he "had nine children by Anna Catharine, six sons and three daughters; that four of the sons settled in Virginia, Jacob and John remained in Penna."

As appears above, Henry also remained.

[NOTE.--The apparent neglect of family registers by the early descendants of Anna Catharine³ and Heinrich Frey creates a doubt as to the numerical arrangement of the generations. The genealogical information I have gathered came from various sources.
